FOREWORD

The Viking Staff of June 1938 has, in its work on the Northern Semi-Annual, attempted to set forth therein a written record of the aims, ideals, and achievements of this graduating class. It is with earnest desire for approval that we present this Viking to Northern High School.

DEDICATION

In recognition of their untiring work and in an effort to convey our heartfelt appreciation for their sincere interest, friendship, and everlasting kindness, the graduating class of June, 1938, dedicates this, our Viking,

to

MR. AND MRS. MARK E. SCHMIDT.

FACULTY

my Stains.

March 23, 1938.

To the Class of June, 1938:

Let me congratulate you upon the way you have handled your class affairs and upon the excellence of your scholarship. Your class will rank among the best that Northern High School has graduated, and I feel certain that your success will continue after you have left these halls. As a light to your pathway, I am passing on to you a poem by an unknown author which is a favorite of mine.

"May every life that touches mine,
Be it the slightest contact,
Get therefrom some good,
Some little grace, one kindly thought,
One aspiration yet unfelt,
One bit of courage
For the darkening sky,
One gleam of faith
To brave the thickening ills of life,
One glimpse of brighter skies
Beyond the gathering mists,
To make this life worth while
And heaven a surer heritage."

Sincerely yours,

J. E. Tanis.

J.S. Tamis

To the Class of June, 1938:

When you leave Northern, be prepared to do your part, willingly and cheerfully. Your life work will thus be more successful, as will be that of others.

In every activity let your watchwords be teamwork and cooperation; let your aim be high and your means be fair. You will then be happy, and, more important, you will make others happy.

SENIORS

To the Class of June, 1938:

Every term I am surprised by the capacity of a class to produce leaders. I fail to note these leaders until they become 12A's. They take a new attitude. In my classes the change is a great improvement in work, intelligence, and morale. Interest and response increase, and a sense of responsibility appears. From my point of view, "being a Senior" means just these things. So in saying good-bye and good luck I want to commend these qualities to you as most valuable for your future. Just continue to "be a Senior" in these ways and your success is assured.

OFFICERS OF THE 12A CLASS

DICK PATTEN President

WILLIAM BIGELOW Vice-President

JOSEPHINE LOVE Secretary

MILTON LIPSON Treasurer

A president is the titular head, leader of those who have elected him. In the realm of school activities not many students have achieved prominence in both athletics and scholastics. It is an honor, therefore, to have as president a student who has won letters in tennis, basketball, and baseball, and who is also a member of the Light Staff, House Debating, Cometrage Players, Hi-Y, and House of Representatives. Outstanding in more ways than one, such a person is Dick Patten, our President.

Although the title indicates second in rank, great is the burden of the Vice-President. William Bigelow is a boy ably prepared to bear this burden and many others of his own choice. President of both the House of Representatives and Bowling Club, member of the Varsity tennis team, and a participant in the 12A play. These are a few of William's activities.

Fulfilling more than the ordinary requirements, Josephine Love was elected to the office of Secretary. Few, if any believe that a 12A class has ever had a more charming and beautiful secretary. Among her activities are the captaincy of the Girls' Varsity Golf Team, and the Presidency of the Northern Girls' Club.

The conscientious treasurer is none other than Milton Lipson. Treasurer of the Northern High Standards, member of the Bowling Club, member of the Light and Viking Staffs, Milton is the man with many activities. The greatest essential of a treasurer is honesty, only one of the many qualities this efficient officer possesses.

Greetings from the President

OUR days of studying and cramming in high-school are over. We are stepping upon the threshold of a new world whose scope is both far-reaching and terrifying to the graduate. Many of us believe that choice positions and golden opportunities are awaiting us, ready to be plucked. Would that this were the situation! The initiative and the stick-to-itiveness of the individual largely determines whether he makes the grade or not. A person in this cosmopolitan world of today must make his own opportunities and not dwell in the future but work in the present.

To those of you who will continue your education in college working in your various fields and professions, I wish you the best of luck. To those of you who will become employee, or perchance, employer, I wish you all possible success in the world. To the faculty we wish to extend our deepest thanks for befriending us and, in many instances, out of the kindness of the heart, giving the pupil the benefit of the doubt on examinations and report cards. Thank you one and all.

As we walk for the last time through the doors past the statue of Abraham Lincoln we begin to feel a new day. I wish you all Godspeed and the best of luck in all your endeavors.

House of Mary Gamble

AS the June, 1938, semester finally becomes a chapter in history, the unparalleled standards of scholarship, citizenship, and athletics established by the students of Mary Gamble House in the past have again been upheld.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Jessie Ward, the dearly beloved house principal, and the house officers, we attained the goal.

Yvette Demarais, graduate of January 1938, was named the best girl citizen of her class. The most prized and coveted trophy, the scholarship shield, was won by the students of Mary Gamble House with a great edge over the other houses.

In the sporting field, Juanita Bathey excelled. She was one of the finest girl athletes Northern has produced. The efforts of Mary Lee Capp and Nancy Arbury on our swimming and hockey teams cannot be overlooked.

The winning of the City Championship in Debating was made possible by a Mary Gamble girl, Lydia Chefan, our secretary and one of the finest debaters and students at Northern.

In the literary field 207 was well represented by Betty Cohen as Editor-in-Chief of the Northern Light; and by Florence Cox, Lydia Chefan, and Betty Jane Cohen, members of the Viking Staff.

The debate cup and best speaker's medal awarded to the Mary Gamble House and Lydia Chefan respectively, were defended this year by Juanita Campbell, Betty Cohen, Anne Berris, and Sylvia Cohen.

Our representatives in the Senior play were Florence Cox, Juanita Bathey, Keitha Dudley, and Mary Lee Capp, who held outstanding parts in the interesting and unique Court Trial.

House of Woodrow Wilson

JUNE, 1938, marks the completion of another successful semester under the able supervision of Mr. Isbell. The officers of the house for this semester are as follows: Paul Begun, President; Donald Bede, Vice-President; John Borlas, Secretary; Paul Cosper, Treasurer.

Outstanding member of House 328 was Paul Begun, the president of the House. He averaged 90 in all subjects and took second place in the 12A Intelligence Test. Having served on the Student Council for three semesters, Paul was chosen Editorin-Chief of the Viking. Completing this remarkable record, Paul was cast as John Graham Whitfield in the Senior Play.

Other members of the Viking staff were: John Borlas, also member of the Student Council; William DeVoe, photographer for both Viking and Light staffs and Drum Major of the Band; and Sidney Baron. Both William DeVoe and Sidney Baron were members of the Senior Play. Robert Batten, the 12B representative on the Student Council, was also a member of the Viking staff.

Elected the Vice-President of the graduating class was William Bigelow. Both William Bigelow and Herbert Bilton held active positions on the Varsity Tennis team. Among the graduates, House 328 was well represented: on the Varsity Swimming team by Harold Evanski; on Varsity Track by Lewis Bell; and on Varsity football by Harmon Dix.

Among the remaining students active in athletics are the following Woodrow Wilsonites: Coleman Coppage, Milton Cohen, Loren Brown, Max Chicorel, Charles Derr, Arnold Brown, Ray Coply, Reginald Collier, Winlow Bramley, Louis Bosley, and Ray De Palma.

The students of House 328 extend to the graduating class their best wishes for a successful and happy future. The boys of House 328 take this opportunity to thank Mr. Isbell for the friendship, kindness, and assistance given to each boy.

- E—Ending our term here, we seniors wish to thank Miss Knight for her help.

House of Benjamin Franklin

UNDER the capable guidance of Mr. C. H. Blanchard, the Benjamin Franklin House has again completed a successful term of school activities. The House officers are: Thomas Kass, President; Benjamin Kingsbury, Vice-President; Charles Kruger, Secretary; Julius Grossbart, Treasurer.

Northern athletic teams, both Varsity and Intramural, were ably supported by members of 308. Those representing this year's strong Eski cage squad are: Eli Kaplansky, Herman Jaffee, and Tom Hubbard. The Northern thinclads' fine showing in track was partly due to the efficient work of Stanley Kubera, Charles Goolsby, and Johnson Flanagan. The defending champs, 308, were beaten on the final day of play for the Intramural Basketball Championship by House 328. However, several of our players were selected for the All-House Squad. These are: Milton Feinstein, Charles Goolsby, Louis Kuretsky and Charles Kruger. Nor were aquatic sports neglected by 308. The boys did a noble job in the intramural swimming meets.

House 308 was well represented in 12A activities as well as athletics: Milton Feinstein, Louis Kuretsky, David Kranhouse and Charles Kruger taking part in the senior production, "Night of January 16th." Aaron Goodman did excellent work on the 12A Social Committee.

The following boys were instrumental in the production of the "Light": Seymour Glanz, Joseph Grosslight and Al Kalman. On the "Viking" staff were: Joshua Gray, Thomas Kass, Bob Folz, Charles Kruger and Milton Feinstein.

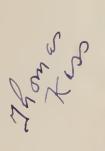

The Benjamin Franklin House was also represented in the House Debating League. In this same field, Charles Kruger is Northern's representative in the city-wide, "Extempore Speaking Contest."

We wish the graduates much good fortune in the future and we also wish to extend to Mr. Blanchard our appreciation for his friendship, help, and personal interest shown to every boy in the study hall.

House of Jane Addams

THE Jane Addams House has always had the distinction of having the most students on the honor roll. Again this year, under the splendid guidance of Miss Wood, House 327 has kept its high scholastic standards. Some of the best students are: June Laughlin, president of the House, Dorothy Menenberg, Patricia Mitchell, Esther Romanin, Olga Rudski, Margaret Mandrea, and Evelyn Ordin.

The seniors of House 327 played an active part in athletics, producing such athletes as Norma Reid, Elsie Peterson, Jean Lunan, in swimming; Angela Pinchera, in basketball; Leonie Pickett and Janet LaTouf, star players on the team in tennis; Josephine Love, the captain, and Marjorie McCoy in golf. In the senior play, "The Night of January 16," we were represented by Laurian Lilley and Blanche Rattner. Also, on the Viking Staff, we had June Laughlin, Dorothy Menenberg, Helene Rinz, Jean Lunan, Blanche Rattner, Olga Rudsky, Marjorie McCoy, Marilyn Musser, and Ann Mason. We were honored by having Josephine Love, a member of the House, chosen secretary of the graduating Class.

Officers for next semester are: Helen Moody, President; Eileen McCleary, Vice President; Shirley Lester, Treasurer; Ruth Ortmen, Secretary. We are sure they are capable of carrying out their duties.

The 12A's wish the best of luck and success to those they leave behind. The seniors have shown a fine spirit of cooperation in managing their graderoom and in helping to make it what it is. They wish to sincerely thank Miss Wood for seeing them through their senior year.

E.H. Fave

House of John Marshall

O<sup>NCE</sup> again the John Marshall House has upheld its usual high standards in both scholarship and athletics under the strong, guiding hand of Mr. Fave.

As senior officers, we have had the popular President Dick Patten and genial Treasurer Milton Lipson. The house came through again by capturing the scholarship award last term and also the house track trophy.

Outstanding cagers were Bob Martin, Dick Patten, Alex Omalev, and Bill Litt. Woodrow Pleasant captained the track men. Those who helped the tank team were Louis Rose and Dick Martin. Bob Martin, Dick Patten, and Sheldon Moyer were regulars on the Northern Nine, while Allan Malinoff was our ace netter.

Many Marshallites were responsible for the publication of the Light. Sheldon Moyer did a fine job of handling the sport page while John Rieger proved his capability as literary editor. Alex Omalev, Leonard Robbins, Bill Menzel, Lester Russell, and Milton Lipson did good work as columnists.

Helping to make a success of the senior play were Mortimer Levin, Dick Patten, Jack Rhodes, Jack Lazowsky, Louis Ohliger, Franklyn Preuthen, and Alex Omalev.

The House Council has been kept busy by doing charity work and by helping Mr. Fave whenever necessary. The council consisted this semester of Mortimer Levin, President; Kenneth McVicar, Vice-President; Leonard Robbins, Secretary; Louis Richwerger, Treasurer; and William Poulos, 12A representative.

To the seniors we offer our sincerest wishes for good fortune in the future, and express the hopes that their time spent in Northern has been always worthwhile.

C is for our captain, Miss Sutherland, whose kindness and helpfulness have helped us to complete another successful term.

A stands for our actress, Clara Smith, who had a prominent part in the 12A play.

R depicts our rate in scholarship. House 307 has always ranked very high in this field.

A is for athletics in which 307 has proved most successful.

B illustrates basketball. In this sport Dorothy Thompson, who played on the varsity team, proved to be very efficient. Geraldine Spare, Isabelle Smith, and Fern Seibert played on the reserve team.

A is for our ace in tennis, Dorothy Thompson, followed by many girls showing great promise for the future.

R is for 307's rise in swimming. Mary Beth Starret, diver; Victoria Sulatuicko, backstroke; Ann Stepul, crawl; Meuriel Swetka, breast-stroke; and Ruth Tracey, backstroke; all were outstanding aquatic stars.

T means "tops" in everything in 307.

0 is for the order established by our efficient council members.

N applauds all 307 girls for the neatness they have retained throughout the term.

H is for our House Decorating Committee consisting of Madeline Therrien and Fay Zabludowsky.

O stands for our officers: Sylvia Winter, Shirley Winkler, Fay, Zabludowsky, and Dorothy Walker.

U is for the undergraduates on 307's House Council; Marie Zettner, Dorothy Weber, Julia Werner, Regina Steele, Eva Steinhart, Clara Sher, Gertrude Strauss, Zelda Schwartz.

portrays the sportsmanship of all 307 girls.

E stands for the enjoyment had by everyone at 307's May Day House Party.

House of Thomas Edison

CONTINUING what proved to be a successful precedent of the previous term, the 208 co-operative bookstore again opened, proving helpful in securing and disposing of used books. This privilege was extended to the school as a whole instead of only to the members of 208.

Mr. Brown, with the help of the house council, is making a strenuous effort to build up the scholastic average of the House. Making the rules of quietness in the house more strict and dropping those students from class who do not show interest in their studies has proved successful; but the most efficient method is making those students who have low marks in their studies stay the ninth hour.

House 208 helped make the senior play under the able direction of Mr. Lewis another success by contributing such members as George Taxe, William Spence, Barney Squar, and Miles Zeman.

Those boys from 208 who excelled in sports are Jack Shnurowitz, captain of the basketball team and given mention on the all-city team; Duane Shepard, Kastant Sinkus, Seymour Summers, and Warren Wallace, swimmers; Herman Sterbinsky, captain of the all-stars house team; and Maurice Wartell, pitcher on the varsity baseball team.

House 208 also rallied forth when a call for entrants in a handball and ping-pong tournament were called for. Jack Shapiro was the leading contender from this house for the championship.

In editing the Viking it has been our sincere wish to create a year-book that would merit the approval of even the severest critics. Thanks are due the factulty as well as the studnt body for the large part they have played in helping us achieve this goal.

This year the objective of the Viking Staff has been to produce a novel and interesting book which will serve to commemorate our stay at Northern. The staff assembled to gain this end has worked together in perfect unison to create a Viking which we hope will meet with the hearty approval of the student body and faculty.

SENIOR PLAY

court room, authentic in every detail provided a most unusual setting for the 12A play presented by the senior class. The play entitled THE NIGHT OF JANUARY 16 was most unique: it was a complete and very complicated murder trial. The defendant was Karen Andre, the efficient secretary of Bjorn Faulkner; Miss Andre, played by Laurian Lilley and Florence Cox, was accused of the murder of her employer on the night of January 16. Defending Miss Andre was her capable attorney, Stevens, played by Franklin Preuthun and Louis Ohliger. Sydney Baron and Charles Kruger portraying the district attorney attempted to convince the jury of Miss Andre's guilt. The jury was a most interesting feature of the play: it had been drawn from the audience and was composed of parents, teachers, and students. The jury, at the completion of the trial, reached an independent decision as to whether the defendant was guilty or not guilty. The witnesses, testifying for either the defense or the prosecution, sat in the audience and came up to the stage to make their testimony. The stage had been turned into a most effective court room. The jury box, the witness stand, the judge's bench: all were there. In the pit the newspaper reporters industriously scribbled their stories and the photographers waited their chance to take a surprise shot of the blond, dramatic Karen Andre. Bjorn Faulkner's young widow, Nancy Lee Faulkner, played by Betty Hutchison and Juanita Bathey, was also the center of much excitement.

The cast did a very fine piece of work and with the able assistance of Coach C. S. Lewis a most successful and unusual play resulted.

NORTHERN LIGHT

GRADUATION is about to separate the cream of the "Northern Light" staff and churn it up to 'butter' things. Of the frothy misses, Betty Cohen, Pat Gildemeister and Dorothy Walker, each represents 33 1/3% of the Northern publication.

Betty Cohen has punched herself into the chief editorship of as shrewd a gang of journalists as ever sweated type units.

Society's cognomen for a professional gossip is Pat Gildemeister.

Dorothy Walker is the mortal creator of immortal linoleum portraits.

In "General News" pigeonhole sprawls Warren Wallace incoherent news editor, and John Walker who sleeps through the debates.

Through the "Literary Endeavor" pigeonhole John Rieger III attacks Journalistic procedure with cut and thrust efficiency. In this glade fits, also, co-editor Helen White, the charming sylph of the "Limelight" column.

Come we then to two sporting gentlemen and an athletic miss. Sir Sheldon Moyer and Sir Seymour Glanz discharge the sport duties with long range efficiency of warped coast defense guns. Lady Nancy Arbury interprets girl sports.

"Columnistic Effort" boasts "Gabby" Fannie Neuman, Bathetic Arthur Urbin and Bill Menzel, enzyme William Canup, and "Westbrook Pegler" Leonard Robbins. "Specialized Reporting" means Marjorie Brown, Hortense Groves, Nina Gayer, Elaine Blumenthal, Marcia Goldsmith, Ruth Coulter, Milton Lipson, Norma Breyer, Alexander Omalev. Advertising Manager Robert McGregor and his assistants, Joseph Grosslight and Harold Gales, have the red ink troubles.

Other slivvers in the staff are Willis Tassie, Katie Goldberg, Marguerite Gaul, typists; Irene Rivis and Helen Yoscovitz, copy and proof readers; Leroy Brown, linoleum artisan; William DeVoe and David Chicorel, candid photographers.

T is through the medium of music that the treasures of the mind are interpreted and presented to the public. The Northern High School Symphony Orchestra presented symphonic arrangements of various works at both the baseball and bundle rallies. An excellent and well-prepared program made the 12A graduation a memorable one.

The Northern High School Banquet Orchestra is composed of members taken from the Senior Orchestra. Their duties have consisted of playing at banquets, radio programs, meetings, and section meetings of the Michigan Education Association.

Consisting of members numbering approximately fifty, the Senior Orchestra has endeavored to study carefully the ideals and principles of music. The organization, as in the past few years, completed the semester under the able suprvision of Mr. Lawrence.

SENIOR ORCHESTRA

THE VARSITY DEBATE SQUAD

THE proposition of the Varsity Debate Squad this year was, "Resolved: that the Several States Should adopt a System of Unicameral Legislatures."

Debating this question, Northern's silver-tongued orators won the City Championship.

The varsity team composed of Lydia Chefan, Janet Grace, and Aaron Schwartz, triumphed over its final opponents in the City contests, Hamtramck High School, and, in reward for meritable achievement, received individual gold medals, a silver loving cup for the school, and much publicity by the local newspapers.

Earlier in the season, the team met the Redford, U. of D., Mackenzie, Cass, Miller, and Cooley High Schools. Whether debating on the Affirmative or Negative sides, the Northern debaters swept aside all obstacles and attained their goal without a defeat!

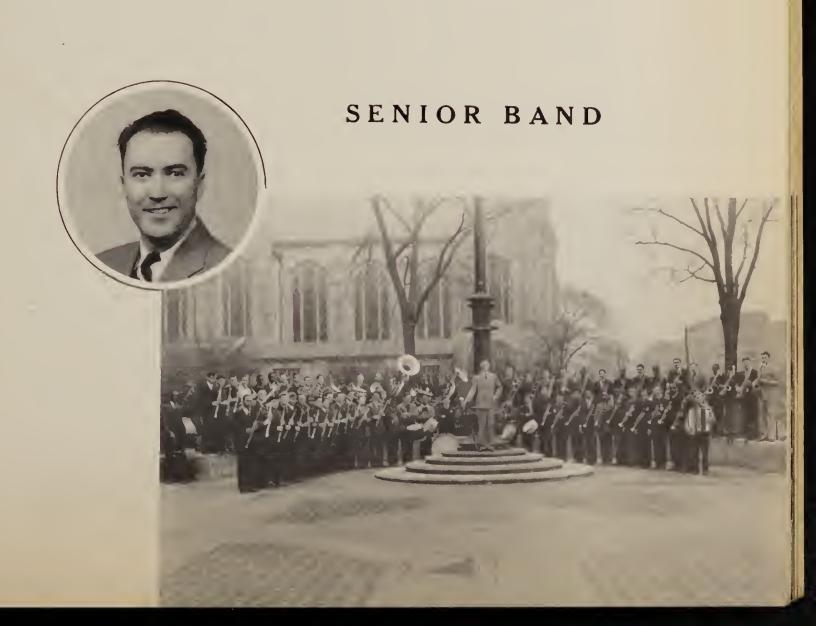

At every contest in which they participated, the debaters were commended by the judges for their excellent speech delivery and their ability to adapt themselves to their objections.

The "Champs" will enter the quarter finals in the state competition later in the season. They have an excellent opportunity to win the state championship, even though Aaron Schwartz has graduated.

Janet Grace, veteran of three years and winner of many speech contests, and Lydia Chefan, veteran of two years and winner of the 1937 Best Speaker's Award in House Debating, will be lost to the squad next year, along with Charles Kruger.

Hats off to Mr. Lewis, the gallant coach who led his team on to victory!

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

WITH the opening of the spring semester of the 1937-38 term the alumni association of Northern High School saw a complete reorganization. To launch the new organization, an election of officers was held at which time Henry Kolbe was elected president; Fred Breyer, vice-president; Irving Munch, secretary; and Perina Mills, treasurer.

Under the supervision of its new adviser, Mr. Seymour Tilchin, the alumni association drew up the first written constitution of its history. Provisions have been made therein for meetings to be held at regular intervals, for annual elections, and for the existence of a substantially large treasury for the promotion of intra-mural beneficial activities.

Continuing an established precedent of providing for an alumni affair to be held at the end of each semester, the officers for the current season have arranged a Put-in-Bay moonlight to be given June 25. In addition to this semi-annual affair, the association has made definite plans for a season of social events.

The association wishes to use this medium as a means of extending to each graduate of the class of June, 1938, a very cordial welcome to attend alumni meetings and wishes also to express the hope that each alumnus will actively participate in alumni functions.

ON BEING A SENIOR

By Shirley Coblentz

Being a freshie was not so easy; as a sophomore, I had my fling; but, as a Senior, things happened so fast and furiously I hardly knew my feelings. The respect and reverence (ahem!) which was lavished upon me by the freshies and sophomores was overwhelming. I was convinced that our graduating class would be the best Northern High had ever known. With that in mind I entered upon the Senior activities with unprecedented gusto!

With sportsmanship worthy of Northernites, we embarked on the election — an election of which to be proud. Graciously our officers accepted their honors, and with graciousness just as sincere the others accepted their defeats. Under the able leadership of these officers, we sped smoothly through a successful term.

The Viking staff, a group of intelligent and able students whose sleepless nights were spent in worrying over the outcome of their brain child — THE VIKING — were deserving of recognition. Their desire for something good and something different, their application of new and untried ideas, their determination to make this Viking the best were the stepping-stones in producing this successful class book.

"Gentlemen of the jury . . ." Ah! What fond memories those words will bring back to us. For who could forget the artistic presentations by the 12A play casts of "The Night of January 16th?" Murder! Love! Comedy! A fine play directed by Mr. Lewis could not fail.

And then, of course, came the picnic! There may have been ants crawling up our legs and spiders parading across the tables and benches but nothing could stop us. For the same spirit that marked all our other enterprises was evident.

Moonlight on the water, the soft strains of a waltz reaching us on the upper deck, and the "slow, graceful" steps of the "Big Apple" were memories of the successful Moonlight which culminated three happy years at Northern. We left the dock in the wee hours of the morning feeling a heaviness in our hearts because we knew that many of us would probably never see each other again.

Before we realized it, we heard Mr. Tanis bid us farewell and wish us good luck. Despite the ups and downs, we had enjoyed working with our teachers, and preparing ourselves for the bumps of life. How proud we were to be members of a class with a record as good as ours! We shall always look back upon that day with mixed emotions — happy to have finished our high school work well and sorry to have left many of our friends and teachers behind us.

PROBLEM

If I should lose you, darling,
The stars would likely keep
Their course appointed, and I doubt
The willow tree would weep.

The sun would rise at dawning And set when evening came; The breezes sound as usual, Nor ever breathe thy name.

The world would go on spinning;
The tides would not abate:
Life would go on; but Saturday night
How I would miss that date!

Charlene Pike

WHO KILLED THE STUDENT?

Who killed the student?
"T'was I," the English book did say,
In nasty and ferocious way.
"I killed the student."

How did you kill him? With a fatal little task. "Write a poem" I did ask. That's how I killed him.

Why did you kill him?
"Because he was a simpleton
And wrote a verse like this one;
That's why I killed him."

Louise Vigmostad

HOW TO ATTACK AN EXAMINATION

Come to the classroom with a heavy black pencil that smears easily, or procure a 4H grade that scarcely makes a mark. Do not write in ink. The idea is not to prepare wholly legible answers. What the teacher can't read won't hurt her.

Pay no attention to instructions. With all the study you have behind you, you should not have to be told what to do. Cover as many pages as you can. No question that can be answered on two pages should be answered on less than twelve. A teacher is usually impressed by long-winded arguments, especially those that have nothing to do with the matter in hand. After she has read a page or two, she'll quit and give you the credit you deserve.

Always prepare uncalled-for statements, even for the simplest problems. On the other hand, omit required statements here and there. The imagination of a teacher may be relied on as accurate. Follow the principle of artistic restraint, and do not tell all you know.

When in doubt, consult the fellow across the aisle; if the teacher sees you, you may expect her to be impressed by your desire for facts.

Jot down, here and there, clever witticisms. Marking papers is a tedious buisness, and a casual "bon mot" now and then will cause your grades to react in accordance with the spirits of the teacher. Never forget to add, "Did not have time to finish." Do not put your papers in the proper sequence; let the teacher put them together. This will make a lasting impression. Finish quickly in order to be the first to hand in your paper. You will thereby confirm your reputation for brilliancy.

Hortense Herman

THE FORGOTTEN MEN OF THE SENIOR CLASS

Great homage and respect have always been paid to the various officials of the graduating class. They are always well liked, although slightly held in awe. They are apparently the cream of the crop, in the vernacular, "the tops."

The fact remains, however, that the backbone of the class is the ordinary seniors, not the ones that have a "98" average, but the ones that always pass with fairly high marks. Their grades are earned not by sheer brilliance, but through hard work and study. They are seldom heard of, except on the occasions when their names may appear on the honor roll; not at the very top perhaps, but, nevertheless, on the honor roll. They cause teachers no anxiety and usually remain inconspicuous.

The forgotten men will be the backbone of the colleges they attend, the businesses they enter, and their country. They may never attain fame or gather a fortune, but they will always be held in love and esteem by their fellow men.

Jack Silberman

'TWAS THE NIGHT BEFORE TEST DAY

'Twas the night before test day And all through the house, But two creatures were stirring; A boy and a mouse. Clad in pajamas, and looking so sad, Was a growling, unhappy And sleepy, young lad. His teacher had told him This test was to be Passing or failing, A "C" or an "E." Now English is tricky, And hard as a nail And if you're not careful You're likely to fail. Something had told him If he didn't pass He'd close up the windows And turn on the gas. As he valued his life To the highest degree It set him to studying, As soon you may see. So the boy studied hard, As hard as he could, He then wrote the test,

And his picture you'll find With the 12A's today.

His gloom cloud rolled on,

And the verdict was good.

His mood became gay,

Alice Rossans

GOD

I need not go to church and pray
To know my God above.
I need not bow my head each day
To realize his love.

I see Him in the ground, the tree,
Each thing beneath the sky,
And shall His vision stay with me
Until the day I die.

And ever when I turn my eyes

To forests and to fields
I cannot fail to realize

The power that He wields.

Herbert Waldman

STORM OVER ROCKPORT

The seagull glides and planes on high,

To mock the winds that wail and cry,

The slate grey swells still onward roll,

Beating the time for the bell-buoy's toll.

Now, the wind shrieks over the main,

The bell-buoy beats a mad refrain,

The rollers, now, are capped with white,

And thundering surf doth flaunt its might.

The dark clouds scud like frightened sheep,
Fleeing before the wind's wild sweep;
And still from out the roaring sea,
The breakers roll in majesty.

The grey stone crags, in the moon's dim light,
Stand fast to scorn the ocean's might.
So will the cliffs hear the ocean's roar,
When the voice of man is heard no more.

James Lunan

THESE NEUROTICS

Through years of association with my high-strung fellow Americans, I have not failed to notice the numerous nervous habits of which many are guilty. These annoying practices are often keys to the personality and inhibitions of the victim.

Outstanding among these neurotics is the fellow who constantly brushes imaginary dust from his coat lapel. In the more serious stages of his affliction the thought of the dust begins to obsess him so completely that he even attempts to pull nonexistant lint from the coats of other people. The underlying trait of this potential Pullman porter and chronic coat-brusher is that of utter immaculateness, which, although essentially commendable, is manifested in a disturbing way.

Still another victim of high tension nerves is the bead-taster. This unfortunate female who is constantly slipping her necklace into her mouth is harboring her child-hood curiosity about the taste of inedible food or a frustrated appetite. Whatever the cause, however, her habit becomes especially irritating when the strained necklace breaks, sending all the unfortunate souls in the vicinity down on their knees in search of the scattered beads.

An additional neurosis sufferer is the confirmed money-counter. His indispensable aid to conversation is a mighty thrust of his hand ito his pocket from which he pulls the sum total of his material wealth to be counted and recounted in the course of a short conversation. This habit not only marks the money-counter mercenary, but also places the onlooker in a serious predicament. If he observes too closely he might be termed curious, or, if he directs his gaze to another direction he risks being considered disinterested.

These idiosyncrasies are at first rather amusing to the observer but an overdose might make even himself a button-twister, head scratcher, or eyebrow-raiser. For this reason the neurotic should calm down and consider his neighbor's welfare.

A STUDENT'S NEMESIS

I run to my locker, snap open the lock, Grab up my books and away like a shot, But no matter how much I hurry to class, I'm caught in the hall and minus a pass.

A teacher then beckons me into her room. I enter it slowly shrouded in gloom. I sit at a desk and wearily wait, For the ten minute interval slow to abate.

I return to the graderoom and try to induce, The vexed principal to give me an excuse. I just get well settled, late to my class, When the bell rings and out again I must pass.

PARODY ON DAFFODILS

(Apologies to William Wordsworth)

I wandered lonely as a cloud
That floats above our fair Belle Isle,
When all at once I saw a crowd,
Around the wrecks of Used Car Week
Beside the lake, beneath the trees
Dispelling gas fumes in the breeze.

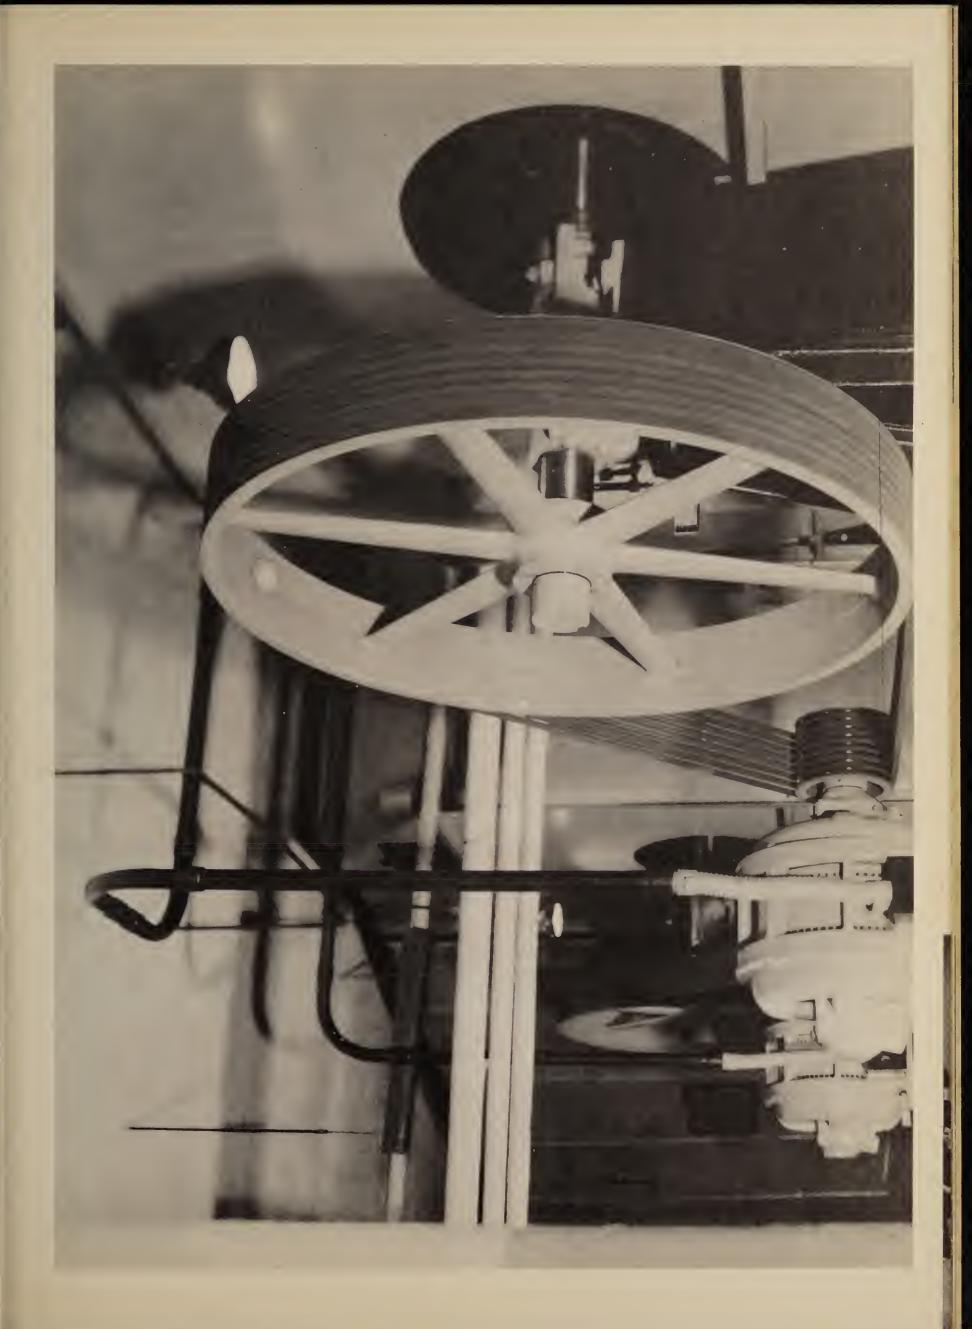

Continuous as the stars that shine
The gentry came from far and wide,
Stretching in never ending line
To see the mayor burn the wrecks
Ten thousands saw I on the strand;
He held a blow-torch in his hand.

The waves with fire danced; but they All cracked and fell beneath the flames A poet could not be but gay With 'mallows poised upon a stick, I gazed regretfully and sought

I gazed regretfully and sought
For marshmallows I had not brought.
And oft when on my couch I lie
With not a sweet to eat all day

There flash upon the inward eye
The ghosts of toasted marshmallows;
And then my heart with sadness fills,
And longs for those sweet long-lost thrills.

DELTA Kappa has just completed another very successful term. The club was under the leadership of able officers: President, Betty Cohen; Vice-President, Bella Fineman; Secretary, Rahl Greenbaum; Treasurer, Dorothy Walker. The officers and board members, Sylvia Winter and Shirley Coblentz, planned a calendar of activities at the beginning of the term which included a reunion, speakers, socials, and regular business meetings.

The system of committees was used again after the great success it had last term. The committees and the chairmen were as follows: Social Committee, Sylvia Winter; Finance Committee, Shirley Coblentz; Publicity Committee, Dorothy Walker and Rahl Greenbaum, co-chairmen; Program Committee, Bella Fineman; Initiation Committee, Bernice Vine.

Considerable effort was spent in selecting and initiating the latest additions to the club. The new member who were heartily welcomed were: Blanche Begun, Elaine Block, Ruth Felsot, Sylvia Goldstein, Sylvia Kersch, and Dorothy Weber.

Having successfully raised funds, the semi-annual dinner-dance was again held at the Book-Casino to the great delight of all the members.

Delta Kappa sincerely appreciates Mrs. Gerrie's generous and thoughtful cooperation and leadership. The members who are being left behind wish to give their best wishes to those who are graduating.

THE Northern Girls have brought another term to a successful close — this time under the leadership of President Josephine Love.

The formal initiation of the following new members, at the Central Y. W. C. A., on March 1, 1938, began the term's activities: Constance Bain, Mildred Baird, Elizabeth Cleary, Marjorie Crandell, Margaret Demarest, Hortense Groves, Mae Guiney, Eva Henderson, Audrey Klett, Marjorie Love, Geraldine Monette, Barbara Pickett, Marjorie Simpson, Betty Stambough, Betty Thomas, Marybelle Tucker, Dorothy Young, and June Voss.

Josephine Love and Alice Kwaltski went to Grand Rapids as representatives to the Michigan Girls' Reserve Conference.

The girls have been inspired by the symbol of the Girl Reserves as shown in a triangle, which represents a healthy body, keen mind, and spirit.

This year the members have entered into a program both social and charitable.

Following a custom of long standing, the girls ushered at the 12A Play and at the graduation exercises.

Miss Leonard and Miss Halfert have again acted as able sponsors, keeping the meetings at the Central Y. W. C. A. in order and offering their friendly advice and counsel.

To the members who are graduating, the Northern Girls extend their best wishes for much success through life.

NORTHERN HIGH STANDARDS

WITH their usual aggressiveness, the club once more got off to a successful season. Included on their program were outings to Mr. Caswell's estate and money raising activities. Following their usual custom of encouraging school activities, they also gave a gold medal to the winner of the singles handball tournament.

Prominent in school activities were George Taxe and Mortimer Levin, presidents of their respective houses, and members of the Student Council, and also in the cast of the senior play; Milton Lipson, treasurer of the 12A class; and Joseph Grosslight and Leonard Robbins who helped with the publication of the Northern Light. Morton Sultan, an eminent pianist, gave several recitals during the term.

The members wish to thank Mr. Caswell for his excellent advice and assistance in carrying out this program.

The officers for the past semester have been George Taxe, President; Mortimer Levin, Vice-President; Leonard Robbins, Secretary; and Milton Lipson, Treasurer.

THE House of Representatives closes its 32nd session with one of the most fruitful years in its history. The members have well represented the club socially, athletically, and scholastically.

The officers for the organization were President, Bill Bigelow; Vice-President, Jack Rhodes; Secretary, Douglas McLaughlan; Treasurer, Louis Ohliger; Sergeant-at-arms, Dick Patten.

Two members of the group hold class offices: Dick Patten as class President, and Bill Bigelow as Vice-President. Ted Luros won the 12A Intelligence Test. Louis Ohliger, one of the members, had a lead in the 12A play. Other aspiring thespians in the play were Jack Rhodes, Bill Bigelow, and Dick Patten.

Athletically we were represented well by Bill Bigelow on the Varsity Tennis team and Dick Patten on the Varsity Tennis, Basketball, and Baseball teams.

Dick Ferris and Ted Luros hold down important positions on Class Committees.

During Easter Vacation the House held a roller-skating party which was a huge success. On May 6th, the club gave its annual dance, "The S. S. Swing II" at the Old Colony Club which was successful financially and socially.

THE Spanish Club has striven to acquaint its members with the Spanish language, the Latin-American countries and their customs. Spanish songs were sung and reports were given on Spain and LatinAmerica by the members of the club. The result has been very successful.

The activities of the club were numerous. Parties, hikes, and picnics were held. A special program, which included a play, was arranged for Pan-American Day, April 14.

The club wishes to thank our sponsor, Miss Russell, for her aid in making the club a huge success.

The club met on alternate Wednesdays.

INDER the direction of Mrs. Brown the French Club thrived this semester with much hardiness. The programs of the club came to a successful close with "une petite soiree" which was attended and enjoyed by all.

A very helping hand was lent to the club by two young ladies with delightful voices, Jane Walbridge and Helen Shytk. Also interesting talks were given by two "Francaises," Dora Lemieux and Louise Lambert. Many anecdotes were given by Sarah Breitman which were of a very amusing and enjoyable nature.

The club ended with the earnest desire that the many students who attended the meetings increased to a certain extent their knowledge of the French language and French events.

NDER the guidance of our sponsor, Miss Hagen, Inter Nos completed a very successful season.

Our first speaker of the semester was Mr. Louis Gordon, who returned as guest speaker by popular request.

A "Bing-Breno" party was held at the Wilshire Hotel and a good time was had by all.

All Inter Nos members enjoyed the annual picnic, where roller skating and bicycle riding were the most popular forms of sport.

Climaxing our activities was the annual reunion of all Inter Nos members and some alumnae at the home of one of the present members.

Inter Nos wishes to thank Miss Hagen for her wise counsel throughout the semester.

THE Philodendroi Biology Club, organized for the purpose of stimulating a greater interest in biology among the student body, has again fulfilled its aims.

This has been accomplished by an extensive program which included hikes and visits to many places of interest in the city, lectures, and social outings. The club also sponsored a series of movies to which all Northernites were invited.

The active members include Lillian Betz, Pearl Bornstein, Betty Dobrovitch, Edsel Forsythe, Rochelle Holtzman, Joseph Katz, Betty Ann King, Walter Kobe, Charles Rhead, Louis Richwerger, Martha Rives, Shirley Silverman, Lillian Smerling, Gertrude Strauss, Harry Vinacow, Dorothy Webber, Eessie Weinberg, Lillian Zaretsky, Mary Louise Zeigler.

To the graduates the Philodendroi again extends its best wishes for future success and happiness.

The members also wish to thank Mrs. Cone for her able counsel and guidance, and look forward to future semesters under her sponsorship.

THE DABBLERS

BOB Castle's gavel raps briskly and the small assembly is at once at attention, eager to begin the meeting. The several committees make their reports; after the reading of the minutes by Secretary-Dabbler Marion, the Activities Committee submit news of several exhibits or similar topics of interest. After deciding upon the exhibits to be attended during the week and mapping out other similar courses of action and enjoyment, the meeting adjourns to work on posters, perhaps for the 12A Play or the School dance.

Then, on the appointed day, the members will take their brushes and easels out to Palmer or River Rouge Park, there to paint and sketch the surrounding countryside with diligence and approved technique, the finished products criticised and appraised by Dabblers Mrs. Gaulka and Miss Bain.

Or maybe the weather does not permit a joyful jaunt to the woods or secluded lake. In such cases, life-sketching in charcoal or crayon or still-life drawing in paints is done indoors, with Dabblers delightedly dabbing deluges of diverse delineations.

THIS semester the Northern Camera Club has shown great progress toward better photography. The pictures which were taken were submitted to criticisms of the club; if they proved to be outstanding, they were kept for display in the showcases.

The outside activities were taken care of by a committee of three people: Albert Bizer, Porter O'Leary, and Harry Shulman. These members met and mapped out the schedule of the whole club. During the outings pictures were taken and submitted to members at the following meetings.

During the meetings different types of cameras were discussed. The time to take pictures, methods used, composition, and grades of film were all discussed so that the amateur photographer knew them to perfection.

The members wish to extend their gratitude to Mr. Whyte for his helpful suggestions during the term.

THE Ellen H. Richards Club has had a very interesting and busy time this last semester The first meeting, a spaghetti party, was held at the home of one of the members. Fifteen new girls attended this party and they were invited to join our club. The following week these girls were formally initiated.

The semester was given to studying how girls in other lands and other parts of the country live. Mrs. Brown gave a very interesting talk, "Life in a French School," which she attended in Paris. Miss Leonard told about her experience in the South when she taught in the Berry School.

The girls enjoyed a very nice trip to the Detroit News Cooking School in May.

Our club is fortunate to belong to the city-wide Home Economics Club. The clubs of Detroit sponsored a trip to Greenfield Village, which was also enjoyed by those of us who attended. The city club also sponsored a picnic at Belle Isle in May. A good number of our girls attended and they reported a grand time.

Our club ended its semester activities with a "Senior Sendoff."

ALTHOUGH the Cometrage Players did not present any play to the student body last term, the organization was held together by the interest of the members in the drama.

The "Players" under the able sponsorship of Mr. H. C. Kolbe studied the following one-act plays, two of which were presented to the faculty and student body.

"Red Carnations"

"Bridges"

"Murder! Murder! Murder!"

"2"

"Claude"

"Russian Salad"

"Fortinbras in Plain Clothes"

by Glenn Hughes

by Clare Kummer

by Babette Hughes

by Stephen Hughes and

Basil MacDonald Hastings

by Herman Ould

by Philip Johnson

by George Brooks

They also presented several dramatic monologues with musical accompaniment.

Love, hate, thrills, and drama constitute the diet of the "Players" and they love it. Many angles and phases of the theatre are discussed — props, costumes, lighting, and make-up, the latter being the most interesting.

Full of vim, vigor, vitality, and hope, approximately twenty-five members attended the open meeting.

To celebrate the success of the plays, the club held an unusual party at the home of one of their members.

Former Cometrage Players who have prominent parts in the 12-A play are Dick Patten and Alex Omalev.

VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

FOR the second successive year the Northern High basketball team just missed making the city playoffs. However, they finished fourth on the East side, with a total of eleven points, being topped only by Hamtramck, Northeastern, and Southeastern. The team ranked high offensively, being third in the city in total points scored. They were led by Dave Young and Bob Martin who scored sixty-nine and sixty-seven points respectively. This was near top-rank on the East side.

With three lettermen returning this year to form the nucleus of the team Coach Powers uncovered a potential star in Eli Kaplansky to work with the veterans.

Although the team's record goes on the black side of the ledger with five victories, three losses, and a tie, there was a general feeling that the boys did not make the best of their ability at all times and every now and then showed an inclination to wilt under pressure. But they had their moments when they looked like champions and so are rated according to Coach Powers as "in and outers."

The high spot on the season's schedule was the 31-31 tie played with Hamtramck in which game the team reached its peak and played marvelous basketball, fighting desperately until the last whistle to gain the tie. But overconfidence and indifference stepped in and ruined the boys' chances of entering the play-offs.

The team was led by Capt. Jack Shnurowitz, Bob Martin and Dave Young who are being lost through graduation. Other lettermen who are being lost are Dick Patten, William Litt, and Alex Omalev.

Led by Kaplansky, the lettermen returning next year are Sam Wisnitsky and Clinton Canady.

BE PREPARED

Boo Hoo Ben Adem was taking a nap,
But soon he woke up and saw, like a sap,
An Angel with her halo writing in a golden book,
And giving old Boo Hoo a come-hither look.
Many years of experience had made old Boo Hoo bold,
And he said, "Watcha writing in that great big book of gold?"
And with another look made of sugar and spice,
The Angel replied, "My shopping list for Christmas."

TUTTI-FRUITTI

A girl shows her raisin when she makes a date with a prune for whom she doesn't care a fig. She may be a peach, but they make a funny pear. She may be the apple of his eye, but she hands him a lemon, although she may have a cherry disposition. It is plum wrong - - if her name be Anna he ought to ban Anna. By this time he would realize that his efforts had been fruitless.

John Borlas: "I just killed five flies; two males and three females."

Florence Tedesco: "How do you know which were males and which were females?"

John B.: "Two were on the table, and three were on the mirror."

Mr. Schmidt: "What is the formula for water?"

Leonard J. Fink: "H, I, J, K, L, M, N, and O.".

Mr. Schmidt: "That isn't the formula I taught you."

Leonard J. Fink: "Well, you said H (to) O, didn't you?"

"You Appeal Toumey."

Irving Kane: "Nobody can deny my love for you, sweetheart."

Hilda Arotsky: "I'd like to see anybody try. I've kept all your letters."

Florence Cox: "So your engagement to the banker's daughter is off. I thought she doted on you."

Bill DeVoe: "So she did, but her father proved to be an anti-dote."

Paul Cosper: "What's a committee?"

Betty Jane Cohen: "A committee is a body that wastes hours and keeps minutes."

Bill Clinton: "My roommate says there are some things a girl shouldn't do before twenty."

Margaret McKinnon: "I don't like an audience either."

Marriage is supposed to be a union of two souls, but occasionally some poor soul finds herself attached to a heel.

Donald Erickson: "How old would a person be who was born in 1897?"

Shirley Coblentz: "Man or woman?"

"There was once a student named Baron At him all the teachers were glarin When his mouth he would open And start his soft soapin'

Their hair they would all start tearin'."

The world isn't half so much interested in the reason for your failure as it is in the formula of your success.

Don Cohoe: "What did you get on your history test?"

Ben Kingsbury: "Ninety."
Don Cohoe: "Honestly?"

Ben Kingsbury: "Don't embarass me."
